Getting Books not owned by the OSU Libraries (Summit)

The OSU Libraries belong to a library consortium of 35+ libraries in Washington, Oregon and Idaho. We share our resources and have a delivery system for sending materials to each other. If there is a book you want and OSU Libraries does not have it, Summit is your next step.

Summit Books can be borrowed for 6 weeks. There are no renewals.

1. Search for the title of your book or your topic in the 1Search. You’ll find 1Search in the top right hand corner of the Library home page.

2. Click search. You will be asked to log in with your ONID.

3. When you locate an item you want, check the Availability Statement. If it says Request this item, it means the item is at another institution or the OSU Libraries’ copy is checked out.

4. To see who owns the item, click on the Availability & Request Options. Then click on the Summit Libraries link.

   This is useful if you live near one of the Summit institutions. You can go directly to that library and borrow the book.

2. To request delivery of the item, click on the Place Summit request link.

3. Choose your pick-up location from the drop-down menu and click Request.

   - If you are On-campus, choose the Valley Library. You will get an email when the item arrives and you can pick it up at the Circulation Desk.
   - If you are Ecampus, choose Home Address as your pickup location. We will mail the book to you. You are responsible for mailing it back to us.
