Letter from Washington.

Dear Friend,—I have been called upon by the people of this State, to take the position of Attorney-General, and I have been appointed by the President of the United States, to fill the vacancy that has occurred in the office of Solicitor of the Treasury Department. I am to go to Washington to take the office, and to carry out the will of the people of this State. I am confident that I can do my duty in the position, and that I shall be successful in it. I shall be glad to see you again, and to talk with you on the subject.

Yours truly,

J. Q. ADAMS.

To my Alumni Friends.

My Alma Mater has called upon me to take the position of President of the University of the State of New York. I have accepted the position, and I shall go to Washington to take it. I shall be glad to see you again, and to talk with you on the subject.

A Woman from the Mountains.

The following letter was recently received by the editor of this paper from a young lady who spent the summer in the mountains, and is published by request.

To the Editor of the Oregon Weekly Union:

Dear Sir:

I write to you from the mountains, where I have spent the past six months, and have been greatly refreshed by the change from the city life of Portland. The air is pure and invigorating, and the scenery is beautiful beyond description. I have enjoyed the mountains to the fullest extent, and have been able to inculcate a great deal of health into my body.

During the summer months, I spent much time in exploring the cabins and exploring the wilderness. I have been able to see many interesting sights, and have been able to make many new friends. The people of the mountains are friendly and hospitable, and I have been able to make many new friends.

I am now preparing to return to Portland, where I hope to spend the winter months. I am looking forward to seeing my friends and to participating in the life of the city.

Yours truly,
