The Oregon Statesman.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1865.

RATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE.

For Vice-President,
JOS. LANDIS.

For Governor of Oregon,
G. D. ALDRIDGE.

For Members of the Legislature:
W. W. BOWDEN, J. M. BELLOGE, S. B. O'NEAL.

A NEW DIPLOMACY.

The Oregon Herald.

The President has a new diplomatic team in his Cabinet, and the following letters, which is in instructing them:

"It is said that—Do not believe there is any cause for alarm. It is said that the Oregon Government is in a state of chaos, and that the people are dissatisfied. It is said that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the people, and that they are demanding a change of government. What is really the matter? What is the cause of this dissatisfaction? It is said that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

dissatisfied, what can be done about it? What can be done to make them satisfied? It is said

that the people are dissatisfied because the Government is not doing enough for them. But

what can be done? The Government is doing all it can, under the circumstances. It is doing

all it can, under the circumstances, and it is doing it as well as it can. But if the people are

The Oregon Weekly Argus, Saturday, October 13, 1855

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President,
JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE
For Vice President,
JOSPEH LANE

WILLIAM H. REED, for Congress, First District.

THE NORTHWEST.

A Portland Intelligencer.

Seating the Democrats in the Senate is the invariable outcome of the following precipitating inquiry, which is an exact reproduction.

"If I 'adn't said, and I know the trouble I got among myself about it, you know it is the Congress that the territory is in. Now, you know they can't be a Congress in the Territory till there are ten thousand of them. Well, we got one hundred thousand of them. I think we can have a Congress in the Territory. And I think it would be a very good thing, too, for the Territory, to have a Congress. It is the same thing, in the same sense, in the same way, that the same people that the Congress in the Territory are in, and the same people that the Territory is in. They can't be in the Territory till they can be in the Congress in the Territory. And the Congress in the Territory is the Territory. And I think they ought to be in the Congress in the Territory. And I think it would be a very good thing for the Territory to have a Congress.

The Territorial Legislature may declare for themselves that they are Congress in the Territory, and that they have the right to be in the Congress in the Territory, and that they have the right to be in the Congress in the Territory. And I think they ought to be in the Congress in the Territory. And I think it would be a very good thing for the Territory to have a Congress.

The Territorial Legislature may declare for themselves that they are Congress in the Territory, and that they have the right to be in the Congress in the Territory, and that they have the right to be in the Congress in the Territory. And I think they ought to be in the Congress in the Territory. And I think it would be a very good thing for the Territory to have a Congress.
The Oregon Territory. The Oregon Territory was established in 1846 and included the land that is now the states of Washington, Oregon, and Idaho. It was created to provide a safe passage for settlers from the United States to California and to protect American interests in the region. The Oregon Treaty of 1846 resolved disputes over land between the United States and Great Britain, and it established the international boundary between the two countries. The Oregon Treaty also established the 49th parallel as the boundary between the United States and British Columbia, which later became part of British North America. The Oregon Treaty was a significant milestone in the history of the United States and its relations with Canada. It helped to establish the principle of territorial integrity and the importance of international law in the resolution of disputes. The treaty also contributed to the expansion of American territory and the growth of the United States as a major power in the world. The Oregon Treaty of 1846 is a testament to the United States' commitment to territorial integrity and the rule of law, and it remains an important symbol of American foreign policy and diplomacy.
SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society of Oregon, having determined to hold their annual meeting May 1st and 2d, 1860, at the new building of the Oregon Hotel in Portland, have given notice to the counties of Oregon to make their applications to them for the purpose of organizing county agricultural societies.

T. H. BROWN, President.

J. W. D. STODDARD, Secretary.

The Agricultural Committee of the United States Senate, as authorized by the New Congress, have prepared the following act:...